Two Visions: Smart Growth vs. Flex Growth

Liberals Want Walkable Communities, Conservatives Prefer More Room

Would you prefer to live in a community where...

Source: 2014 Political Polarization in the American Public

PEW RESEARCH CENTER

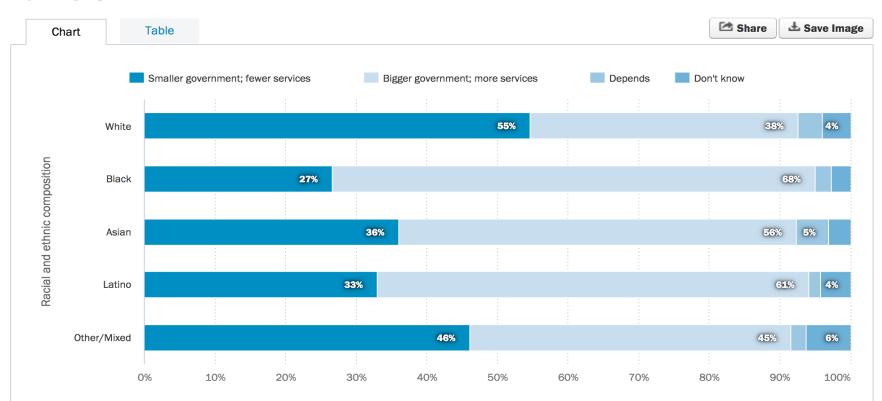

Notes: Ideological consistency based on a scale of 10 political values questions (see Appendix A). "Don't know" responses not shown.

CONSERVATISM CLASS: CONSTRUCTIVE ENGAGEMENT

Disagreements about Size of Government

Views about size of government among nothing in particulars by race/ethnicity (2014)

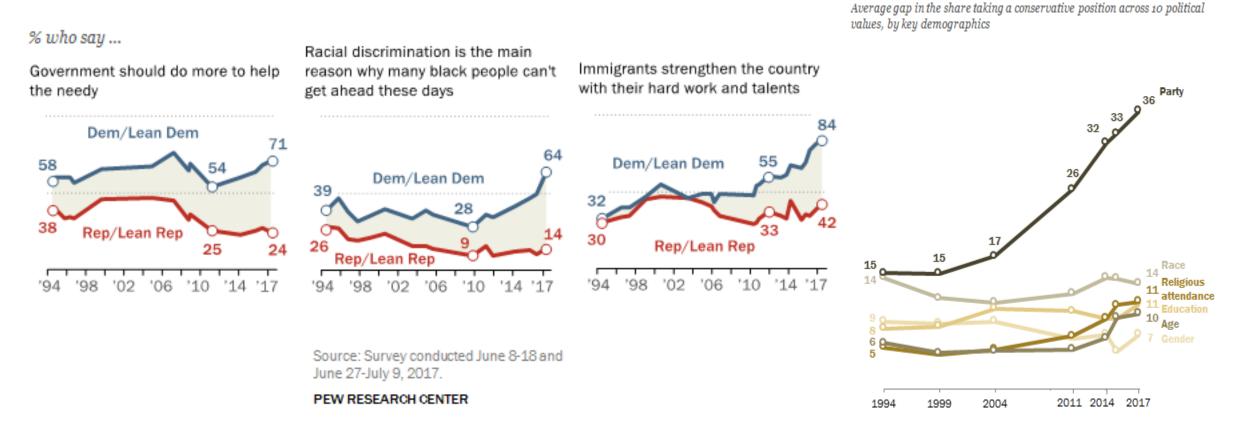

% of nothing in particulars who would rather have...

Note: Whites, blacks, Asians and those in the other/mixed category include only those who are not Latinos. Latinos include people of all races.

Sample sizes and margins of error vary from subgroup to subgroup, from year to year and from state to state. You can see the sample size for the estimates in this chart on rollover or in the last column of the table. And visit this table to see approximate margins of error for a group of a given size. Readers should always bear in mind the approximate margin of error for the group they are examining when making comparisons with other groups or assessing the significance of trends over time. For full question wording, see the survey questionnaire.

There is no question that Americans are more polarized by party than they used to be. What this means — and what, if anything, we might want to do about it — are more challenging questions.

Among both politically engaged Americans and the general public, scale scores of ideological consistency across 10 Pew Research Center questions have diverged dramatically over the past quarter-century.

Among both politically engaged Americans and the general public, scale scores of ideological consistency across 10 Pew Research Center questions have diverged dramatically over the past quarter-century.

Voters across the spectrum do share a couple of important sentiments. They exhibit far less trust in the federal government than their predecessors did. But they also exhibit less trust in themselves — in the wisdom of the public.

Public trust in government: 1958-2015

Trust the federal government to do what is right just about always/most of the time ...

Survey conducted Aug. 27-Oct. 4, 2015. Q15. Trend sources: Pew Research Center, National Election Studies, Gallup, ABC/Washington Post, CBS/New York Times, and CNN Polls. From 1976-2014 the trend line represents a three-survey moving average.

PEW RESEARCH CENTER

Both parties have lost confidence and trust in public's political wisdom

% very great/good deal of trust and confidence in political wisdom of American people

